"This is perhaps Darby's best known work, but SSC doesn't have it. We were singing it to Maida Riggs + one of the guests asked for it. Will reminded me it was in the Kinhaven cookbook, so I made you an acid free copy! [Maida (!) Goodwin]" — Note accompanying Dushkin's handwritten score in the Sophia Smith Collection of Dushkin's papers, Smith College. This note, and the handwritten round, were photographed and given to me by Amy Beal. This current version is a literal computer engraving of the original. — LP
